PRESS RELEASE

Stockholm based opera trio Divine consists of the three sopranos Caroline Gentele, Gabriella Lambert-Olsson and Jacqueline Miura.

Divine's debut performance was at the Stockholm water Prize in 2007. This acclaimed debut resulted in an invitation to perform for the Swedish King and Queen during their official visit to Vienna. Since then Divine has sung their way into the hearts of many an audience, on the popular TV programs "Allsång på Skansen" (twice), Go' kväll, Humorgalan, Nyhetsmorgon TV4, Gomorron Sverige SVT, Moreaus med mera, at the Polar Prize gala dinner, the Stockholm Pride Festival and at Dalhalla's Firework concert," amongst others.

In December 2013 Divine had the great honor to produce and perform at at the Swedish Nobel Prize gala dinner in Stockholm.

In Sweden Divine has performed with orchestras such as the Dala Sinfonietta, Västerås sinfonietta, Swedish Radio Symphony Orchestra, Norrköping Symphony Orchestra, Malmö Symphony Orchestra, Borås Symphony Orchestra, the Drottningholm Baroque Ensemble and Rebaroque, amongst others.

Outside Sweden Divine has sung several times in Norway, Denmark, Finland, Estonia, Germany and in England, USA, China and India.

Since 2011 Divine arrange a charity concert called "All women are Divine" on the 8th of March (International Women's day) in the church Hedvig Eleonora in Stockholm. Female musicians perform music composed by female composers. In 2017 this appreciated concert will be broadcasted live in Swedish Radio "P2 Live".

Divine has toured a lot in Sweden with their own show "A Divine taste of opera" and with the magical musical play "The Swedish Nightingales" which tells the fantastic story of the three Swedish opera stars Jenny Lind, Christina Nilsson and Signe Hebbe. During the autumn of 2016 Divine performed The Swedish Nightingales at the Preston Bradley Hall in Chicago thanks to a scholarship from Dr. Anders Wall's foundation.

During 2017 Divine will perform all over Sweden and with Forsvarets Stabsmusikkorps in Norway.

In the autumn they will perform "The Swedish Nightingales" at Växjö Concert hall.

Divine has released three Cd's: "Divine Dreams" (partly produced and arranged by Anders Neglin) "A Divine Christmas" with Malmö Symphony Orchestra, "The Swedish Nightingales" and two singles: "Anthem for all mankind" and "Here again".
